AFTERNOON DISPATCHES

The Chili-Pern Matter Claims Attention of Congress.

A list of dispatches from Chili-Pern matters is published in the following column.

Associated Press Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The House Foreign Affairs Committee have concluded the examination of Blaine, and will to-morrow examine special Envoy Tresselt as to his knowledge of papers missing from the files of the State Department.

GUITEAU AGAIN.

Justice Bradley has under consideration the application for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Guiteau, made upon the grounds that the Criminal Court had no jurisdiction.

JAPANESE INDEMNITY.

The Senate passed the Japanese Indemnity Bill to pay $785,000.

The Cahoon Labor Trouble.

CAHOON, N. Y., June 14.—To-day Harmony Mills closed. Not one additional operative this morning joined the ten who returned to work on Monday under ten per cent reduction. A meeting of the company will be held on Thursday.

A Big Poker Game.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., June 14.—Last night Dr. Monteville M. Hedges, a dental surgeon and sporting man, was arrested here on a bench warrant issued by a justice of the Supreme Court, on the complaint of Francis P. Weed, of this city, charging Hedges and William M. Scott, the latter now in California, with conspiracy to defraud. The three played a game of poker in this city in June last year, betting $150,000 on a single hand, Weed and Hedges lost. Weed now charges the hands were put up by Hedges and Scott, they to divide the winnings.

Independent Republicans.

PITTSBURGH, June 14.—The Independent Republicans held the first meeting of the campaign last evening, with a large attendance and many hucrotores classed as stalwarts took part.

Attacking Non-Union Men.

CLEVELAND, June 14.—The strikers attacked the non-union men under police escort and many were severely hurt by missiles. Six strikers were arrested.

The Wyoming Indians.

CHICAGO, June 14.—An Omaha special says that a company of cavalry left Fort Sidney, Nebraska, last evening for McKinney, Wyoming, to reinforce the garrison. General Crook learns from the commandant there that it was rumored that 1,500 Indians were on Powder river below old Fort Kinney, but (?) miles from the present fort, and that 100 lodges of Indians were on Sack creek. Stockmen reported the Indians killing cattle and threatening to attack herds. The commandant has not heard from his messenger sent to obtain actual facts. General Crook deemed it advisable to send troops.

A Just Retribution.

CHICAGO, June 14.—A Las Vegas, N. M., special says: Four rustlers, who recently bound and gagged Mason, a storekeeper near Sola, recently robbing his store of all they could carry, were overtaken by a Mexican posse and strangled. All were Americans, but their names were unknown. They belonged to a gang of Arizona cow boys, and richly deserved their fate.

Almost a Flood.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 14.—The severest storm of the season occurred last night. Two inches of rain fell. The city east of the Union Depot is flooded along the railway tracks up Pennsylvania, Delaware and Alabama streets. The cellars are rapidly filling. Fifteen or twenty persons were standing on the platform over Pogue run, when it gave way and threw them into the water. Some were rescued and others passed through the culvert safely, while others are supposed to be drowned. It is impossible to give the number lost.

Indian Greenbackers.

KOKOMO, Ind., June 14.—The Greenbackers of the Eleventh District nominated Evan Thompson, a farmer, for Congress.

Smallpox in Minneapolis.

ST. PAUL, June 14.—There are half a dozen cases of smallpox in Minneapolis, and it makes quite a scare here. Webster school has been closed. Few fatalities have occurred.

Small-Pox.

SALEM, D. T., June 14.—Six cases of small-pox developed at Bridgewater, on the line of the Milwaukee & St. Paul extension. Salem has been quarantined against Bridgewater. No trains stop at the infected town and no mail is taken there.

Playing Sick.

WINNEPEG, June 14.—Hanlan has asked Ross to postpone the race two weeks. Ross refused to remain under training so long, and fixes July 3d. It is believed here that Hanlan's illness is a scheme to effect betting.

A Noted Singer Drowned.

CHESTERFIELD, N. H., June 14.—The body of George R. Conter, the noted operatic singer, was found in Spofford Lake this morning. The remains will be sent to New York.

The Flood in Hungary.

LONDON, June 14.—Forty-four persons were drowned by the recent flood at Vercecs, Hungary.

The Russian Emperor.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 14.—An official bulletin states that the Empress, whose confinement occurred yesterday morning, is suffering from exhaustion.

THE FIRE FLOOD.

A Terrible Fire at Montreal—Other Places.

MONTREAL, June 13.—A terrible fire is raging in Victoria Square. The loss already is over $1,000,000. The fire is not yet under control. The fire originated in Miller, Son & Co's bookbindery and stationery store, and extended to the following places, all of which are now gutted: Greenfield, Son & Co., dry goods; Malaterra & French, same; Jones: Miller's $150,000; Greenfield's, $350,000; McIntyre & Co., $100,000; Clendenning, building and stock, $550,000. Insured in all the English and Canadian offices for three-fourths the value.

LATER.—At 1:30 the fire rages as fiercely as ever. The water power at the beginning was not sufficient to cover the upper stories of the buildings where the flames had the strongest hold.

DESTRUCTIVE FOREST FIRE.

MILWAUKEE, June 14.—A forest fire is now destroying the best pine in Clark county. Indications are that the destruction will be greater than occurred during the great Peshtigo fire which occurred the same year Chicago burned. The fire is rushing northwest with fearful rapidity. It will reach Eau Claire river inside of two days and all the logging camps will be destroyed.

FIRE AT SOUTH BRAINTREE.

BOSTON, June 14.—A fire at South Braintree this morning destroyed the best business building in town, containing the postoffice, Grand Army Hall, market, a drug store, clothing store, club room, etc. Loss, $60,000; partial insurance.

TWO LIVES LOST.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 14.—Jas. Pronger's house was burned. The mother perished and the father was fatally burned.

COAST DISPATCHES.

The S. F. Geographical Society Express Their Opinion.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—This evening the Geographical Society of the Pacific held a meeting, at which was presented a majority and minority report in regard to the Inter-Oceanic Canal. The majority report favored the Nicaragua route. The report was signed by Wm. Aldrich, B. B. Bourdier and Thos. E. Slevins. The minority report was adopted. The minority report, which favored the Panama route, was signed by A. McF. Davies.

THE MARKETS.

No. 1 feed barley, higher, at $1.80. No. 3 yellow corn, higher, at $1.82; bid.

SHOOTING AT PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 13.—Last night Peter Carlson, of Astoria, shot and dangerously wounded James Scott. Carlson surrendered to the authorities. Scott is in a very critical condition.

A JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE.

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 13.—On Sunday morning Miss Maude, a courtesan, shot and instantly killed a half-breed named Wayne Filton, at Cabinet Landing, Washington Territory. Filton was armed with a revolver, and was threatening to attack her. The commandant has not heard from his messenger sent to obtain actual facts. General Crook deemed it advisable to send troops.

A Mysterious Accident.

A Ventura dispatch says: A couple of days ago a gentleman discovered Rev. F. D. Seward, the Presbyterian minister here, sitting on a rock on the Northford road. He seemed to be completely dazed. A few hours later he was found dead. He had been shot by a bullet which had entered his head. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Several Illinois children were playing in their yard a few days since, when a perplexing question arose among them. A report was in circulation that a neighbor's three children had accompanied each other into the experiences of this life, and they were vainly trying to settle what they were called. At last one little girl appealed to her father: "Papa, what do they call it when three children are born together?" "Oh, I know," said a mite of a thing who had overheard discussions regarding the small-pox. "What is it, my dear?" inquired the proud father. "An epidemic," replied the learned quondam.

Artesia, Los Angeles county, was settled in 1875. The land of that settlement was mostly sold at auction in February and April of that year. The sale lasted four or five days in April, during which time about $75,000 worth of property was sold. The company selling the land built a school house that cost $6,000, at a time when there was scarcely enough children in the neighborhood to form a district. The district was formed afterwards. Artesia is now entitled to three teachers, and the school house is getting too small. A post office has just been established there, and Wm. M. Wilson appointed postmaster. Mr. Wilson has just established a store there. Thus new settlements grow rapidly in this fast growing country.—Riverside Press.

A lady named Crimes is about to appear on the public platform. It is to be hoped that she will not commit herself.

A customer gives the shopwoman a twenty-franc piece with a false face. The shopwoman: "But, monsieur, this is a counterfeit." The customer (after examining it closely): "Oh, that can't be. You see it is of the time of Charles X. In these years it would have been found out before."

It is the general impression that a tin pan fastened to a strange dog's tail will afford the average boy about all the fun he wants; but a dog's teeth fastened in a boy's coat tail has been known to give his companions just as much sport. Boys have no prejudices that are permitted to interfere with their enjoyment.

LAGUNA CANYON.

Our Correspondent has been enjoying Life at the Sea Side.

The Party—The Canyon Described—To a and Sideroad Backs—The Giant—The Devil's Laundry—Side Caves.

We are home again from that paradisiacal spot, Laguna Canon. Our party consisted of the well-known naturalist, Prof. T. C. Hull, Judge Trunell, Capt. John Brown and Mr. Frank West, a rising young lawyer, whose volleys of wit kept us consoled with laughter. The ladies were Mrs. T. C. Hull, Miss Katie West, Miss Bessie Stevens, Miss Ida Kell, and your correspondent.

The canon is quite beyond description, being a perfect marvel of luxuriant beauty. It is a little colony, separated from the rest of the world by picturesque mountains, covered with pretty trees and shrubbery and fantastically shaped rocks, amongst and over which flutter warbling birds and merrily quail, followed by their numerous families.

Looking away up the mountains we could see the cattle browsing, and had they not moved one might think himself looking at some grand painting by the old masters, for they seemed to be pasted against the almost perpendicular ascent. In the valley below gurgled a little stream, fed by numerous crystal springs, watering the crops, which, notwithstanding the dry season, were mostly in a thrifty condition. They have a nice little school, presided over by Mr. Smith, who gives general instruction. Near little white-washed houses are scattered here and there, surrounded by pretty flower gardens, enclosed by picket fences, each wearing a decidedly homelike appearance. The largest house there is owned by George L. Rogers Esq., who has been building recently, and will now have rooms to let to those in quest of health. We revelled in the beautiful scenery as we slowly waded down the canon to the seashore, often coming to points in the road where it seemed to be necessary to climb a mountain in order to proceed, which proved a tedious business. The Twin Rocks, between which a good sized tree had sprung up and was in a thrifty condition, though from whence it derives its sustenance is a mystery. A side board rock is a very good imitation of that article of furniture. The gait is composed of rocks so arranged as to give the appearance of a path. Along the beach the scenery is even more impressive than this. Our little party climbed perched cliffs, where a gust of wind was a sitting matter of horror. We visited Steamboat Rock, where the tide rushes under the rocky cliff through a fissure, and dashes back again with terrific force, giving a puff precisely like a steam engine, which throws the white spray many yards above our heads, falling upon the iron-streaked rocks around, and in the distance, below, the big one of the Blacksmith Shop, which may be entered (if caution be used) at very low tide, is a cave where may be seen an immense boulder shaped like an anvil. The god Neptune is said to sharpen his trident here. This theory is added from a peculiar noise issuing from the cave during high tide, which is probably caused by the action of the water on the loose rocks.

The Devil's Laundry contains some gigantic washbasins, into which we dared not trust ourselves lest we should get washed over the brim and away to "the great unknown."

Merrill Rock may be observed at low tide, where sits one of the godesses of the sea, in rather an undignified attitude. A person of a lively imagination, coupled with the undulation of the waves, might see a movement of the huge stone arm and hand, holding a very mis-shapen comb, with which she is said to comb the long yellow seaweed, which she fans for her hair.

Monstrous seals, or sea lions, entertain us by wallowing over Seal Rock, bawling like cows. Prof. Hull informed us that these creatures are very fond of anchovytrippers, especially trichurus. We are indebted to this gentleman for valuable information concerning crabs—sidetrails in particular. One of this family demonstrated fact, quite to our dissatisfaction. We had divested ourselves of our footgear, as in days of our youth, and had begun to nurse the beauties around us, when we discovered what the Professor afterward told us was a side-crab, his feet firmly fixed in a crevice. For a moment we were all in a pretty good state of confusion, but when it occurred to us that we would like to see it walk. We stepped to the side of it so that it might have ample room to move forward. Then, picking up a piece of bone which we carried, we gave it a prod in the back. Instead of moving forward it dashed aside, and as it is their nature when molested to hide under some object, this frightful thing chose our small (?) pedlarium as a place of refuge. We were standing with our back toward a rock about two feet in height, when it shot toward us, and we did not reach the other side by turning and walking around it. We immediately donned our shoes and overcoat, and the party, determined to be as well as with our limited knowledge of natural history.

LA FEMME. Garden Grove, June 13, 1882.

Small Fox on an Emigrant Train.

The western bound emigrant train brought in a man yesterday, by name of L. Soltzman, suffering from an attack of small pox. The Health Officer was notified and was quick to respond. The man was sent to the pest house. The other passengers in the train numbered sixty-four, and as they had for the past several days been exposed to the infectious disease, it was considered best that they be not allowed to proceed, but were sent to Wilmet, a small station about six miles to the east, the cars run to a side track and quarantined. They will receive all the medical attention possible. Dr. Handy went out to see them yesterday afternoon. In due time if no more cases appear among them they will be allowed to proceed. During their detention Col. Bean will see that nothing is wanting to make them as comfortable as possible under the circumstances.—Tucson Citizen, June 13th.

A Good Selection.

Captain W. H. H. Russell, of the Eagle Corps, has been tendered the position of Brigadier General of the First Brigade, N. G. C., recently made vacant by the resignation of General Banning. The selection is as good as one as could be made. The Captain is a gentleman of fine abilities, a most popular officer and a thorough soldier. We are not advised as to whether he will accept or not, but trust he may see fit so to do.

A Lovely Home.

An excellent opportunity of securing a beautiful home a few miles from the city is presented to the public in "New To-day." It is said to be one of the finest and best located places in Southern California, and Eastern people seeking a nice cozy home, with all the comforts, will do well to call on or address Mr. Glidden.

Edelman & Co., manufacturers of cigars and jobbers of tobacco, are the largest dealers in Southern California, 78 Main street.

HAZEL KIRKE.

It will be Performed here June 21st to 24th.

This grand play, that had a run of fifteen hundred nights by two companies in New York city, and which has been so popular in San Francisco of late, has through the good fortune of Messrs. Wood & Osborn, been secured for Los Angeles on the evenings of June 21st to 24th. Mark Thall, their advance agent, arrived here yesterday, to complete the remaining arrangements. The cast will be the same as have graced the boards of San Francisco. The company will consist of Miss Effie Ellsler, Miss Perle Dudley, Miss Sol. Smith, Miss Mand Osborn, Miss Kate Dennin, Miss Bower, Frank Colfax, Edmund Holden, E. M. Roberts, Frank Weston, Harry Lee and Edward Milligan.

A Pleasant Party.

The Stoneman ranch was the scene of a very charming garden party on Monday afternoon, given by the young people, now at home for vacation, to their guests from San Francisco. Between thirty and forty of the youth of the neighborhood, with a few from this city, assembled about three o'clock P. M., and until after seven P. M. the sound of merry laughter and outdoor games prevailed. Several of the parents were there informally, and all agreed that a prettier scene or merrier party could scarcely be found. The floral decorations were exquisite, the beautiful table highly appreciated, and every appointment for the pleasure of the young guests complete. Evidently the Stonemans enjoy making their friends, young and old, happy.

Would Like to Know, You Know.

EDITOR TIMES: At the last session of the Board of Supervisors the County Recorder was allowed an extra copyist.

Mr. Lamb, in deference to the people and party that elected him, appointed to the position a young gentleman lately arrived from the East. I, as a Republican, would like to know if there was no resident that assisted to elect him to the position he holds who has the capacity to fill the place. Some one, please explain.

HOME PROTECTION. LOS ANGELES, June 14, 1882.

East Los Angeles.

A TIMES reporter visited East Los Angeles yesterday, and observed that the music of trowel, saw and hammer is still to be heard on every hand. A commodious school-house will shortly be commenced on the corner of Griffin avenue and Mozart street, to accommodate residents on the east side of Downey avenue. A great deal of taste is manifested in the building of the houses generally, also in the improvement of the yards of the grounds around the houses, which plainly indicates that East Los Angeles is pre-eminently a community of homes.

County Board of Education.

A meeting of the County Board of Education was held last Saturday evening. All second grade county certificates granted in June, 1880, were by order of the Board renewed. Provision was made for the examination of pupils completing the course of study prescribed by the Board, and for granting diplomas of graduation to all pupils obtaining eighty per cent. in the examination. Applications for examination of pupils have been received from two schools—Santa Ana and San Jose. The examination questions will be forwarded to these schools this week.

The Rivera Block.

The five stores in the new Rivera Block, Main street, will be occupied as follows: No. 106, H. Susskind, clothing and gent's furnishing goods; Nos. 108 and 110, Harper, Reynolds & Co., wholesale and retail hardware; No. 112, George Vignolo, groceries and provisions; No. 114, A. Bell, harness and saddles; H. B. Ray, Hardware, Reynolds & Co. and George Vignolo are now moving into their new quarters. The stores are all commodious, well ventilated and well lighted.

The Fourth.

There is an evident desire on the part of the enterprising people in this city to call a mass meeting of citizens to consider the question of a celebration on the Fourth of July. Considerable discussion over the question was heard on the streets yesterday. The Times would suggest that some prominent citizen start a petition for a mass meeting, and have the city canvassed for it. The feeling in the city is such that the question can be readily decided. Since the above was in type a meeting has been announced at Union Hall this evening, to take measures for a proper celebration, which we hope will be well attended.

Major H. C. Stone.

There is a universal desire among those who heard Major H. C. Stone's lecture Tuesday evening in Good Templar's hall on the "Naval battles of the Rebellion" to hear him again. He is announced to lecture next Monday evening on the subject of "Up the Rhine and over the Alps with a Knapsack" for the University of Southern California. His lecture on the "Rite of Miraim" would undoubtedly draw well.

Edelman & Co., manufacturers of cigars and jobbers of tobacco, are the largest dealers in Southern California, 78 Main street.

HAPPY HARRIET.

A Child Photographer and What She has Accomplished.

Biographical Sketch at Six and One-Half Years of Age as Given in Brown's Photographic Monthly.

Harriet Graham, known as "Happy Harriet," the daughter of W. H. H. Graham, of Los Angeles, Cal., was born October 7th, 1873, in Saline county, Kansas. She began learning the photographic alphabet at two and a half years of age. She could spell a few simple words when three years old, but soon after this she got badly tangled with the irregular or compromise naming of the consonants, after which she was taught them uniformly with the vowel e following, and then she proceeded without further difficulty.

When she was four years old she could read phonetic print. At five she learned Roman print. At six she began the study of photography and went with her father on lecturing tours, and was put on exhibition. She is now seven years old, and has nearly completed a thorough knowledge of photography as presented in Benn Pitman's Manual; reads music from the violin; speaks fluently; has studied Montessori's Manual of Geography, Ray's Arithmetic, part I; reads music from round notes; plays tunes on the violin from the book; sings alone in public; surprises everybody with her knowledge, and yet she is not an intellectual prodigy. Her excellence in learning is principally the result of phonetic teaching and hygienic habits. Her lessons have been very limited, generally to a short time in the afternoon of each day. She never studied reading and spelling in any of the old style school books, except McGuffey's primer. She gained most of her knowledge from the American phonetic dictionary, from which she recites one column a day except Sundays. She has been allowed to use Sunday as a day of rest from all her studies. She never reads newspapers, and is not of inconvenience in many respects has had a poor chance at home.

She is large for her age and temperate. She has never used tea, coffee, stimulants or medicine. She never sick much—so as to lose any sleep from it. Went through measles, mumps, whooping-cough, diphtheria and many other fevers and sicknesses so lightly that strangers, or even physicians could hardly tell that she was affected; in fact, she has always been called a model child. She is very fond of romping "tom-boy," and runs and plays in the open air and sunshine. She never wears fancy fashionable dress, but yet she is as pretty as a picture. Perhaps her example and influence will sometime do much for the cause of correct education.

"HAZEL KIRKE."

The Ordinary Madison Square Company.

Everybody in Los Angeles is evidently determined to see Hazel Kirke, and an overwhelming audience is already assured for the grand opening this evening. A writer says of the piece: "Without doubt this domestic drama is very fascinating. In fact it is more. It is touching to a point of tenderness which the morbid effect of the French drama cannot approach. There is a spirit of homely candor and truth about it that calms the most indifferent. But how much does this play owe its success to the thoroughly artistic manner of its representation? How strong do some scenes grow in the hands of this company, which, in others, would be weak and ineffective. How tender are situations here that might be flat if not so rarely rendered. In short, it is to the magnificent company, to Gould, Ellsler and others, that Hazel Kirke owes much of its reputation and much of its success." The company bring an entire set of scenery. Notwithstanding the great expense of this all star company, there will be no extra charge for reserved seats. The sale of seats will commence to-day at Lazarus' book store. Moral—Go early if you want a good seat.
